

NCPD DECOY

TRIGGERS AMBUSHES

By Chu Becca

Many questioned the wisdom of NCPD Captain William Jones when he announced the collection route for the 2,054 firearms and Heavy Weapons netted in the Night City Police Department's Annual Gun Buy-back program. Especially when every poser with a gun made a play for the shipment late last night.

However, the NCPD used the opportunity as a ploy to thin the ranks of the more eager Streetrats. Moments after gang members opened fire on the two convoy trucks departing Precinct #3, they found themselves quickly outgunned as the vehicle doors slid open to reveal twin NCPD Power Armor suits.

With a message sent to other gangs eager for a crack at the weapons, the NCPD has announced yet another collection route assuring the public that it is to actually transport the guns to the main NCPD headquarters.

We shall see.

THE BOZOS ARE BACK

By Johnathan Steward

In a gout of flame and destruction, the Bozos have re-emerged from former scarcity, to wreak havoc on Night City. Seldom seen since the 20s, these terrifying monstrosities have started to pop back up among the population at large.

As of last week, there have been 6 cases of arson, 25 murders and 10 Missing Persons Cases, linked with this infamous group of marauding freaks.

Known for biosculpting their physical bodies to resemble clowns in appearance, these hideous individuals display signs of not only physical abnormalities, but also extreme psychological mania and psychosis.

The NCPD has recommend the public keep their ears and eyes trained for bright reds, honking noises, and unopened packages that lack return labels. They have also recommended not to travel after dark in groups smaller than 4 in the Heywood area.

Due to the recent Firearm Buyback Program being spearheaded by the NCPD becoming targets, it has been requested from Night City Council to contract either Lazarus or Militech to protect the law abiding citizens from this terrifying threat to their safety.

DANCING IN THE ASHES OF SOVOIL

By Benzaiten

Azriel Nox became the center of attention today as SovOil's recently reopened pipeline suffered a catastrophic mechanical failure. However, this had little effect to quell a flash party being held at a nearby warehouse in the Heywood Industrial Zone.

A crowd of almost 100 fans have gathered for the impromptu party and as anticipation for the festivities reaches its peak, the sound that shook the earth and kicked off the rave was not a feat of entertainment pyrotechnics, but an explosion in SovOil's pipeline system.

Sources claim that the investigation is currently looking into sabotage, stating this was the work of two know criminals.
